

Addendum

CD Tote

A tote in the general shape of a portable compact disc player designed to encase such a compact disc player, made of various sturdy materials such as leather, cow hide or other similar materials. The tote is designed with various frontal shapes to accommodate the shape of the design of the compact disc player. It is incorporated with a waterproof plastic face and ribbets on the side depending on the shape and model to allow the head phones to be attached to the CD player. The CD player tote has a zipper around the base of the tote to insert the CD player allowing for the playing of the CD player placed within allowing for minimal listening interference. Tote designed with a clip attached to the back of tote to fit snugly on belt, waist of pants or skirt.